Something for Everyone at UVM’s Summer University

Register now for summer courses. From evolution to brain research, from cooking to iBooks, UVM’s Summer University offers many new and exciting courses of study. Check out these newly added special topics:

- EDCI 200 Teaching Through Cooking: Connecting the Food System to Your Classroom (3 credits, on campus)
- EDCI 200/BIOL 295 Evolution for Educators (3 credits, on campus)
- EDSS 200 Formatting iBooks (2 credits, online/on campus)
- EDCI 200 Ethics of Neuroscience in Education (1 credit, online)
- EDCI 200 Society, Stress and the Brain (3 credits, online)
- EDCI 200 Assistive Technologies (1 credit, online)
- EDCI 200 Brain Research & Learning Theory (1 credit, online)
- HDFS 295 Sex Differences in Learning (1 credit, online)
- EDCI 200 Dewey and Kitchen as Classroom (3 credits, on campus)
- EDCO 291 Military Culture (3 credits, online)

For questions about any summer course, contact us at learn.uvm.edu, 802-656-2085 or 1-800-639-3210.

New Course Helps Teachers Gain Skills to Work with ELLs

Join us this summer for a unique opportunity to add to your professional development portfolio and gain the skills and experience to work with English Language Learners.

Our five-week summer TEFL/TESOL (Teach English as a Foreign Language/Teachers for Speakers of Other Languages) combines online and campus study, providing you with the knowledge to teach English abroad or in your classroom here. You also may work with UVM to find a placement for Fall 2012 to teach in China.

The course is designed in a hybrid online/on-campus format. It includes three weeks of online learning that you can complete from your home or another convenient location. For two additional weeks, you will participate in an on-campus practicum, gaining experience teaching and working with ELL students.

The schedule is:

- June 14-22: Online learning from your home or other convenient location.
- June 25-July 6: On-campus residency (no classes July 4)
- July 9-July 18: Online learning to complete coursework

Register soon! The deadline is May 31, and only 15 slots are available. For more information or to register, visit learn.uvm.edu/tefl.

Upcoming UVM Events

Speaker to Address 'Building Bridges with Families': Beth Haney, one of the country's foremost experts on helping teachers and students succeed in a multicultural setting, will speak at UVM on Monday, April 9, from 4 to 5:30 p.m. at Ira Allen Chapel, with a reception to follow. The lecture is free and open to the public. Learn More...

India Highlight of Campus Events April 9-13: Srinivas Krishnan, UVM James Marsh Professor-at-Large and founder and director of the Global Rhythms World Music Ensemble, will deliver a series of talks April 9-13 on campus. The "Imprints of India" series is free and open to the public. Join us for these events:

- Monday, April 9: "Lose Yourself in India: Music and Film", Livak Ballroom, Davis Center. 6:30 p.m.
- Tuesday, April 10: "Oral Tradition of Learning Music in India", John Dewey Lounge, Old Mill. 4 p.m.
- Wednesday, April 11: "Hand Drumming in India", 206 Southwick Hall. 3 p.m.
- Thursday, April 12: "Beatles Discover India: The Rise of A.R. Rahman", Memorial Lounge, Waterman Building. 6 p.m.
- Friday, April 13: "Evolution of Indian Cinema and Bollywood", Livak Ballroom, Davis Center. 3 p.m.

Learn More About "Imprints of India"...

Featured News Stories from UVM

Production Values: When Jon Kilik returns to Vermont to speak with students, as he does every few years, he says one of his goals is to "demystify" his profession. The Class of 1978 alumnus has built a long and successful career as a film producer, making his way in that world of silver screen mystique. Learn More...

Learning on the Lake: Follow Jason Stockwell, director of UVM’s Rubenstein Ecosystem Science Lab, and his students onto Lake Champlain as they spend an afternoon and evening studying the movement of mysis shrimp before and after sunset. Watch the video or read the transcript...