

Medical School Prep Program at the UVM Larner College of Medicine:

Designed to Help you Appreciate a True Medical School Experience

- get the “inside scoop” about applying to and succeeding in medical school today;
- learn from, and be mentored by, successful first year medical students;
- learn about the AAMC initiative: a pathway to competency-based admissions;
- shadow the best physicians at the UVM Medical Center to expand your clinical experiences;
- guide us in tailoring your shadowing experiences to your clinical preferences;
- learn Doctoring Skills from our outstanding Standardized Patient educators;
- participate in virtual medical procedures in UVM’s state-of-the-art medical simulation center;
- watch live surgeries;
- engage in team-based-learning sessions nearly every morning to help you prepare for the revised MCAT;
- practice essential interviewing skills through mock multiple mini interviews (MMIs);
- participate in weekly narrative medicine reflection sessions;
- receive a detailed personalized assessment based on your program participation;
- what you learn in this carefully designed program will help you stand-out as an applicant and succeed as a medical student.

Materials provided by the course:

Kaplan MCAT Complete 7-book Subject Review (books & on-line) – contains preparatory readings for morning didactic sessions

Questions to consider if you decide to enroll in the course:

Would you be interested in subletting a first year medical student’s apartment during your time in Burlington? Cost would be approximately $650-800/month (4 weeks). In some instances you would be living with other medical students.

Which medical specialty/specialties, if any, would you be most interested in “shadowing?”