March 2 – Refugee Director Tracy Dolan Refugee Resettlement in Vermont

The Vermont State Refugee Office coordinates private and public resources to provide a safe and welcoming home for refugees and immigrants and to promote their full participation in the economic, social, and civic life of Vermont. Dolan will discuss the exciting and humbling task of welcoming an unprecedented number of refugees into Vermont along with the many challenges and opportunities it presents.

March 9 – Filmmaker Susan Bettmann Joe Picard: Man of the Land

Bettmann will discuss her series of documentaries about Vermonters and show this film focusing on woodsman Joe Picard who cares for his Middlesex land throughout the seasons. Influenced by his Native American and French-Canadian roots, Joe's knowledge of the land goes back many generations and shows us a way of life that is fast-disappearing in our modern computer-driven life.

March 16 – Author Kekla Magoon Revolution in Our Time: The Black Panther Party's Promise to the People

National Book Award Finalist Kekla Magoon discusses the research, inspirations, and contemporary context for her nonfiction book exploring the history and legacy of the Black Panther Party.

March 23 – Sustainability Educator Tom Sabo and Members of MHS EARTH Group The Climate Crisis: Science and Psychology

Students from the Montpelier High School EARTH Group and VT Youth Lobby will share recent data on climate change as well as their thoughts and concerns relating to the crisis and its impact on their lives and future.

March 30 – Author Reeve Lindbergh Memory and Writing

Reeve Lindbergh, daughter of authors/aviators Charles and Anne Morrow Lindbergh, has written several memoirs. She will talk about her own work and that of other writers, including older adults she has taught and helped to self-publish.

April 6 – Author & Former Journalist Chris Graff Why Vermont is What America Wants to Be

There is good reason that Jim Jeffords' 2001 declaration of independence, Bernie Sanders' presidential campaigns of 2016 and 2020, and Howard Dean's presidential campaign of 2004 caught fire with the nation. America hungers for what Vermont has and Vermonters take for granted—which is authentic common-sense leaders. Graff details what makes Vermont special.

The OLLI film series will be shown at the Savoy Theater in Montpelier.
1:30-3:30 p.m.

Author & Film Guru Rick Winston Presents Three For the Road

The "road movie" has been a tried-and-true staple of films for almost 100 years. We'll take a look at three of the many such films:

April 13 – It Happened One Night (1934)

This granddaddy of the genre was directed by Frank Capra and stars Claudette Colbert and Clark Gable. It is one of only three films that have won five Academy Awards.

April 20 – Wild Strawberries (1957)

Ingmar Bergman's masterpiece, often considered one of the finest films ever made, takes place on a journey from Stockholm to Lund. During the trip, the protagonist comes to an appreciation of his current life by reliving parts of his earlier years.

April 27 – Almost Famous (2000)

Cameron Crowe's semi-autobiographical film is a comedy-drama coming-of-age memoir. Starring Billy Crudup, Frances McDormand, and Kate Hudson, it follows a searching teenager who goes on tour with a rock band while trying to have his first major writing published.
